

PASINETTA PRINCE, 40

February 26, 2006 – Omaha, NE

Pasinetta Prince, an actress well-known in local theaters, was found dead in the basement of her home. Her mother began to worry when Pasinetta did not show for a Black History Month performance at her church and she could not be reached. When Omaha Police arrived at her residence, she was found with a bruised neck. Prince had also been badly beaten. Her death was believed to be suspicious and police did not have an immediate suspect to arrest. It wasn't until 2009, three years later, that Prince's case was reopened when police discovered blood on her pajama top. Patrick Bauldwin, her former boyfriend, was arrested. His DNA, confirmed by an analysis, matched the blood on the piece of clothing. Bauldwin was sentenced to life in prison for second-degree murder.

DVC Silent Witness Badge